Task: Choose the best revision.

- A. The committee is reviewing the proposal.
- B. At this point in time, the committee is currently reviewing the proposal.
- C. Currently at this point, the proposal is in review by the committee.
- D. The committee is currently at this time in the process of reviewing the proposal.

Exercise 2

The first trial reduced errors by 9 percent. ____, managers say the sample was too small for a firm conclusion.

Task: Choose the best transition.

- A. However
- B. Therefore
- C. For example
- D. Similarly

Exercise 3

The notice must remain brief ____ many patients read it on a phone.

Task: Choose the connector expressing reason.

- A. because
- B. although
- C. meanwhile
- D. for example

Exercise 4

The form includes a field that is used for the purpose of recording urgent problems.

Task: Choose the concise revision that preserves purpose.

- A. The form includes a field for urgent problems.
- B. The form records urgent problems only.
- C. Urgent problems are the form.
- D. The form includes a field that is used for the purpose of recording urgent problems.

Answer reasoning

Check the rule and the meaning, not only the letter.

For every miss, identify whether the problem was grammar, punctuation, word meaning, sentence logic, or a rushed reading of the context.

Exercise 1

Best answer: A. The committee is reviewing the proposal.

Why: The present-progressive verb already shows the action is happening now.

Exercise 2

Best answer: A. However

Why: The second sentence limits the encouraging result, so contrast is needed.

Exercise 3

Best answer: A. because

Why: The phone-reading context explains why brevity matters.

Exercise 4

Best answer: A. The form includes a field for urgent problems.

Why: The shorter phrase keeps the field's purpose without unnecessary wording.

Mistake check

Rewrite one missed sentence correctly. Then state the rule in one short sentence you could use on a new example.
