

Structure, Purpose & POV - Practice Workbook

Mixed skill practice before full Passage Practice.

Use this after the individual guides

These questions mix organization, function, purpose, perspective, and rhetoric. First identify which relationship the question is asking you to analyze.

Community Pool

A report begins with rising repair costs, compares two renovation options, and ends by recommending the less expensive option while noting that it would close the pool for six weeks.

1. What is the main structure?

- A. compare / contrast leading to recommendation
- B. sequence only
- C. definition
- D. unrelated description

2. What does the final limitation do?

- A. proves the recommendation is wrong
- B. qualifies the recommendation by identifying a cost of the preferred option
- C. changes the topic
- D. defines renovation

Late Clinic

A clinic notice says weekday appointments now continue until 8 p.m. It includes the sentence, "For example, patients who finish work at 6 p.m. can now schedule a 7 p.m. visit."

3. Why include the example?

- A. to prove every patient works until 6
- B. to define appointment
- C. to illustrate how the later hours can help a specific type of patient
- D. to introduce an unrelated story

4. What relationship does "For example" signal?

- A. contrast
- B. result
- C. sequence
- D. example

River Letter

A conservation group asks residents to support a river cleanup. It repeats, "Cleaner banks, cleaner water, cleaner habitat," and then lists volunteer dates.

5. What does the repetition accomplish?

- A. it emphasizes several connected benefits of the cleanup
- B. it proves the river is already clean
- C. it explains the volunteer schedule
- D. it defines habitat

6. What is the letter's main purpose?

- A. to entertain with a fictional river story
- B. to persuade residents to support and participate in the cleanup
- C. to compare two rivers
- D. to report unrelated weather data

Answer key and reasoning

1. A. The report compares two options before recommending one.
2. B. The closure period is a drawback attached to the recommended choice.
3. C. The example turns the general schedule change into a concrete use case.
4. D. The sentence is a specific case of the broader benefit.
5. A. The repeated word cleaner ties the benefits together and emphasizes improvement.
6. B. The call for support and volunteer dates show a persuasive/action purpose.

Next step

If one relationship repeatedly causes trouble, return to that skill page and use its guide, workbook sheets, and interactive practice before returning to mixed passages.